Liberties and Responsibilities

We all know that we have freedoms here in the United States of America. But there are many responsibilities to earn them.

One of the responsibilities is to be a citizen and be a good one. In order to be a citizen you have to have been born in the United States. If you were not born in the United States then you can go get interviewed by the law and become one. In order to be a good citizen you should stay in contact with important events.

One way you can be a good citizen is to help the environment by picking up litter and helping out with oil leakages. Did you know that thousands of animals are dying from getting oil on them? Well you could help prevent that from happening and prove you deserve these free liberties at the same time!

Another responsibility is to obey the law. Laws are very important are meant to not be broken for your safety. So to deserve your freedoms don't break the law. You can break them one or two times and still deserve your freedoms. But any more, that's not good. So don't break the law!

Also, another responsibility is to.....VOTE!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Voting is very important in the United States. It's the way we decide who the President will be. Or who the next Student Council will be. If you don't vote then how would we know who the presidents going to be? Exactly!!!!!! And you would get to put in your opinion of which president or other office you would vote on you would like to win.

A very important responsibility is to PAY YOUR TAXES!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Paying taxes help pay for things like health care and other important things that are in that category. If you don't pay taxes then you could lose your house or the thing the tax is for if you keep it up and that is no where near deserving your liberties (freedoms). So PAY YOUR TAXES!!!!

A responsibility for children is that they must go to school. School may be boring but it helps you know everything you need to know for your job when you get older. If you don't go to school then your parents could get in seriously huge trouble. They could get in so much trouble that they could get arrested because it's their responsibility to make sure you go to school. It's also important that kids go to school to get accepted to great colleges and jobs so that you can have money and not be poor and live comfortably.

Ok so you did your part of going to school and now your parents have a responsibility. They have to go to work. Working is very important because like I said before, if you get a great job then you could be rich or at least live comfortably. Imagine what would happen if you didn't work. You'd be poor and wouldn't be able to pay your taxes or bills. You'd eventually end up getting your house and car taken away like I told you earlier. Then you'd have to live with someone in your family.

We all should know that liberties take a lot of responsibility so I hope this will help you make the right choices and deserve your freedoms.
